Just another day.
Arshylle Kenney, Toya Thompson, and Coretta Meredith begin the day with a gabfest.

We're ba-ack!
Summer's gone, its time to face reality. We've gotta go back to school.

Only a dollar ten?
Philip Burkett has no problem parting with his money.

Where did you get your hair done?
These seniors show off their beautiful new do's

Striking a pose.

Monica Walker appears to be having a bad day. Who doesn't?

The "N" Place

■ ■ ■ Never A ■ ■ ■ Dull Moment

HEY, THAT'S MINE!
Antoine Taylor fights for the right to wear his "Tims". Shona Woodley, Tiffany Whitfield, Kim Jackson really disagree.

Whether it's having fun "play wrestling" or having some sweet conversation. There is always something exciting going on at BSHS!

THE UN-COUPLE
Monique Murphy and Wesley Stith sure look like a couple. But they're not, are they?

"Look me in the eyes and say that again." Monica Walker and Larry Thompson have a "heart to heart"
during lunch.

Time For Class.

It is 1:40 and lunch just let out. These students, and Ms. Ulmer-Parker, are heading back to class.

No Loitering.

Luckily the halls of BSHS allow "hangin' around." Jermaine Davis, Trishaun Murphy, Jamie Hargrove, and Tom Sain demonstrate this rather well.

HANG TIME

Its Time For A Break.

Seniors Jennifer Stancil and Katherine Gibson enjoy the time they have away from class. The Student Lounge provides a haven for snacks, laughter, and a chance to do last night's homework.

Lay Back And Relax.

Andrea Hawkins, Jeanette Thompson, LaKeisha Smith, and Trina Turner eat their lunch in comfort.

Ring . . . Ring . . .

Shona Woodley brings her home habits to school. Talking on the phone is a great way to spend your time.

"So-o-o much to talk about!" Kristy Simms and Joan Callis discuss what happened today.

"Let's go!" Zubaidah Bassett cranks up her car and gets ready to leave.

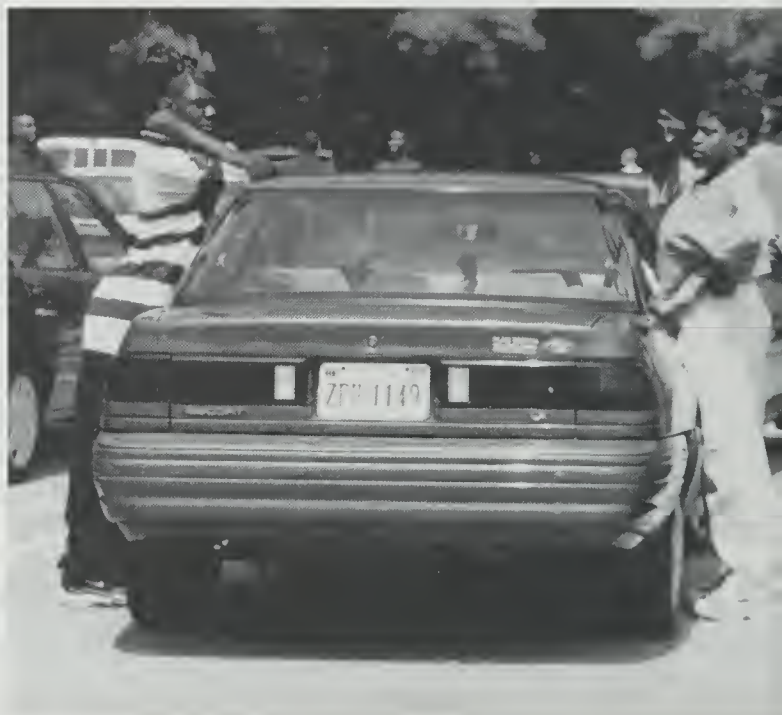

Antonio Edmonds cruises the strip after the football game.

"Who's riding with me?", Where to go after school was always a popular topic with students.

Can Sylvia Jones and Shauntae Wheeler decide which hot spot to hit after school.

Life Begins at 3:20", — Monica Walker

O FF THE BUS AND IN THE DRIVER'S SEAT.

David Bruce knows "The Rule": No cars can leave until after first load. So, he just "chills" until them.

Walls play a vital part in any school. They support, they inform, they contain.

ARTISTIC/ATHLETIC

Face to Face With Two Opposite Talents.

Keith Shearon is proud of his ability that enabled him to create this beautiful scene.

Robert Brown is concentrating on keeping a steady hand.

In gym class, students are able to explore a variety of sports.

"I love art class because it enables me to use my imagination and creativity to the fullest." — Holly Pair

Above all gym sports, basketball ranks as the most liked, with the least favorite being running.

Who says gym's not fun? These girls find time to chill in an unlikely place.

Kiss The Cooks

Katherine Gibson, Debra Booth, and Shannon McElroy slice and dice as they prepare a feast for the palate.

Smart, Beautiful and Greasy.

"A girl's gotta do what a girl's gotta do" is Katharine Samford's motto. She proves that women can be gorgeous, intelligent, and handy with a wrench.

Professionalism, Courtesy and Punctuality.

Mrs. McGeachy prepares her class for the real world of business and work.

Drafting 1 on 1!

Mrs. Gordon teaches her students the precise art of drawing blue prints and what it takes to become a good architect.

Cutting Edge

Charles Smith cuts squares and holes in Mr. Raney's Welding Class and hopes that "the rod" doesn't go through.

The long life of your car depends on the engine. This student makes sure that you have a happy and healthy car.

An Unusual Sight

Joseph Green changes spark plugs, for the first and only time says teacher Mr. George, while DiQuentin Brown sweeps just to be seen.

REAL WORLD EXPERIENCES

Vocational/Technical courses are designed to initiate students into the work world.

The Old-Fashioned Way

Shawn McCain uses pencil and paper, rather than a calculator in Mrs. Winfield's class, to get the answer.

On-the-job training is the best teacher. Thanks to Voc-Tech classes, a large portion of the graduating class will be "job-ready" as soon as they receive their diplomas. On the average day, a student could learn to change his own oil, cook dinner for 12, type his resume', build a CD tower, and draw-up plans for his new dream home.

Let's Take A Closer Look At The Governor's
School For Global Economics And Technology
Students . . .

O ur Classmates At GSGET.

In their morning environment: Many of these students wake up by 6:00 am., or even earlier. Class starts at 7:40 and is FINALLY over at 11:10. From there, they travel to their home school:

Greensville, Park View, Nottoway, and Brunswick High School. GSGET is a place where rivals join as one.

Dr. Kristine Samaria, the Environmental Science, Economics and Chemistry teacher, always has her hands full. Stress can be a major factor for students and teachers.

Jefferson Jones and Zubaidah Bassett are two of the BSHS seniors who attend GSGET. These are "model" students for their looks and academics.

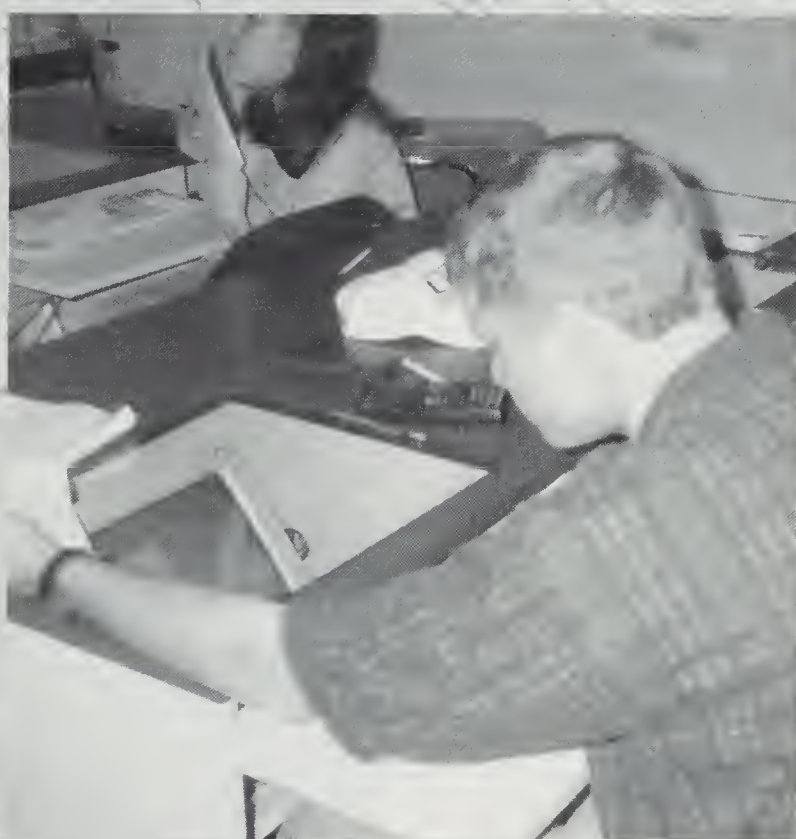

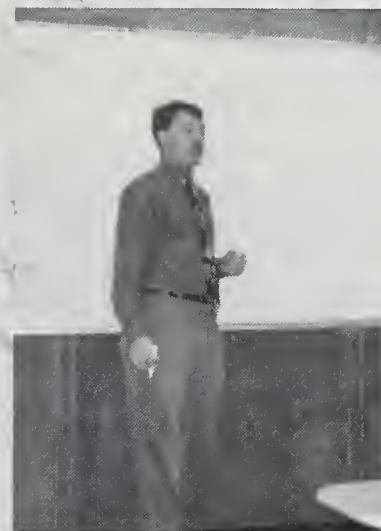

There are two sides to every story. Michael Evans seems to breeze right through while Jimmy Hicks has to think twice.

Chris Smiley teaches Precalculus and Calculus. He's a good teacher, but his exams are a dreadful thought.

These two senior Governor's School students are enjoying the great outdoors. Erin Randolph and Will Dennis find nature at Saint Paul's.

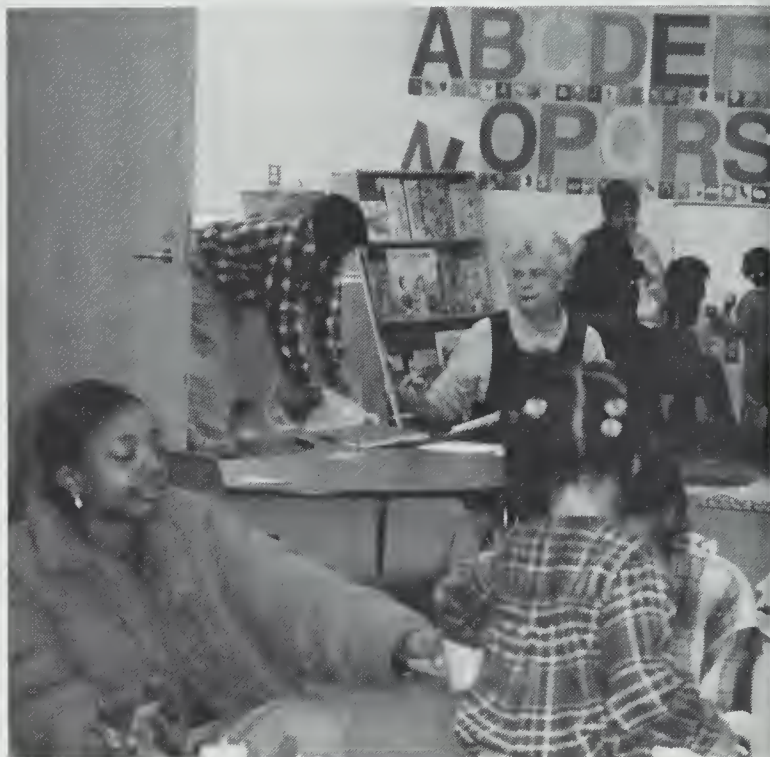

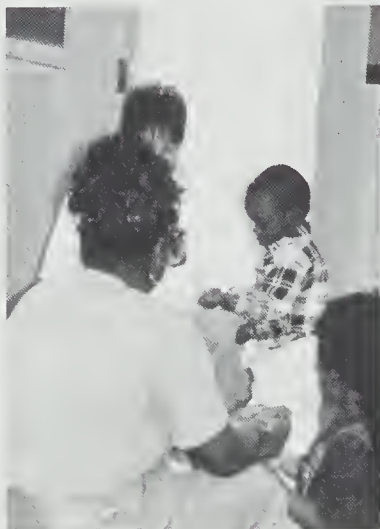

GSGET is a school for technology. Philip Burkett demonstrates how math and computer technology can co-exist.

CHILD CARE I/II

Rest Time

Sakisa Walker will need a nap just as much as the kids when she's done with her energetic little ones.

Strictly Speaking

These pint-sized people are carrying on quite a conversation with Theresa Wilson and Kim Graves.

Sing A Song

Singing and dancing really gets the kids going. What is really happening, though, is motor and social development.

Art and Crafts

Math/Science

Biology is in your everyday life and it's all around you.
— Stephanie Neal

Problem Solved

James Walker knew the answer and how he arrived at it. That means he must really understand it.

Embryological stages, dissection, formulas, protons, electrons, neutrons, exponents, inequalities, variables, linear equations, ratios. In Math and Science classes these otherwise "foreign" terms are placed in a practical context so the students related them to life outside the classroom. Isn't that what a real-world education should do?

Front and Center

Mr. Barnes always made it look so simple. But looks can be deceiving — just ask Charles Whitlow.

$E = MC^2$

Mrs. Hicks explained it and if you watched and listened closely you might have gotten it . . . then again maybe not. It's not like Math is an exact science! Oh, wait. Yes it is!!!

New Kid on the Science Block

Mrs. Wilson is a new addition to the faculty this year. Her students say she makes biology interesting and fun.

COLLABORATION IS THE KEY

Mr. Graves, also new to the BSHS faculty this year, promotes the collaborative approach to chemistry. Jermaine Tucker, Shannon Elder, Demond Rhodes, and LaTanya Evans show that working together does get the job done better, faster and more efficiently.

SAY THAT AGAIN

Kenneth Hayes and Nathan Patillo watch and listen as Mr. Crane goes over the example one more time.

BELIEVE IT OR NOT

Robert McPhaul is entranced by Mr. Wynn's demonstration. Brandon Clary, Kevin Crayton, Tia Seward, and Lauren Jones just try to take it all in.

SOL'S AND ANGLES

A TOAST

B.J. Moore leads the Bulldogs in a toast before the big game at Bruton.

THREE FRIENDS

Melissa Thomas, Christine Forbes, and Miranda Clarke share more than food — they share friendship.

DO WHAT, SAY HUH?

Denita Powell tries to figure out exactly WHAT that was. Whatever it was, it was tasty!

Participating in Special Olympics was always a high point of the school year for Mr. Coleman. He seemed to have as much fun as the children.

EXPRESSIONS:

Mr. Coleman always had a sense of humor. Students would ask him to go to the snack machine for them. He'd reply, "starve"!

When he let students leave the room during class, he'd always remind them, "Don't get the teacher in trouble"!

Whenever teachers complained about their jobs, he'd always reply, "It beats cutting pulpwood for a living".

Tommy Coleman gave 17 years of dedicated service as a Special Education teacher at BSHS. He was a role model, counselor and dedicated educator to the students who shared his classes. He will be greatly missed at BSHS." — Jeri Burke, Principal

First a student, then a teacher, he was a part of the BSHS family for over 20 years.

Farewell Mr. Coleman

December 10, 1997

RESOLUTION

WHEREAS Tommy Dale Coleman began seventeen years of dedicated service in the Brunswick County Public School System as a special education teacher in September 1980;

WHEREAS his desire to become a better facilitator of learning led him to pursue a Master Education Degree in areas of Special Education; AND

WHEREAS his love for students led him to work in many capacities involving students with special needs, to hold positions on the local, regional and State level with the Special Olympics for many years; AND

WHEREAS his superb ability as a role model, a counselor, a dedicated educator who recognized the importance of educating the whole child, led him to be selected for many leadership roles; AND

WHEREAS his dedication led him to persuade his students as well as other students in the school to strive for excellence; AND

WHEREAS he was not only a role model for students, but also for other young men who were hired to teach in the school system;

BE IT THEREFORE RESOLVED that the administrators, faculty, staff and student body share with the Coleman family and the hundreds of students whose lives he influenced in the loss of Tommy Dale Coleman. His life has touched and enriched our lives for the past seventeen years.

THEY REALLY PRACTICED

The Varsity and JV squads practiced 3 hours each day during the pre-season. Most nights it was dark when they left the practice field — hot and worn-out. Practice didn't make perfect for the Varsity Bulldogs as they endured defeat after defeat. The JV squad rallied to win 3 games during their season, one against Greenville and two against Bluestone. But like the legendary Phoenix, the Varsity Football Squad will rise from the ashes of the 1998 season to soar again.
